Our primary purpose is to create a dream holiday for you and to provide a tailored service listening to your requirements carefully.

We Save You Time

Time is precious to everyone yet so many people are willing to waste it looking for their holiday when we can save you that time.

Hours, and sometimes days or weeks, can be spent properly researching a holiday. With the amount of conflicting information available online, it's easy to quickly get overwhelmed and confused.

The questions you may have about a particular location or hotel are often ones that we can answer right away thanks to our knowledge and years of firsthand experience.

If you are starting from scratch, have detailed questions or need to plan a complicated itinerary, we do all the work for you. We make the international phone calls to get your questions answered. We know who and how to contact in order to get the job done saving you hours of frustration!

We Protect You, Your Family And Your Financial Investment

Many people are oblivious to the fine print terms and conditions of their travel documents until it's too late. This can often be a big issue and can cost them a lot of money unless you know what you're looking for.

We have personally booked over 1,000 holidays so are well versed in these rules, terms and conditions. We help navigate the legal issues and protect you, your family and your investment.

Travel With Jules are members of ABTA, AITO Specialist Agents and ATTA and sell ATOL protected holidays.

We Can Save You Money

We are happiest when we can provide that perfect holiday whilst saving you money. We make our recommendations based on the specific needs and requests you have. We don't base our recommendations on industry sales incentives or bonus gifts. If we know of a better hotel or experience that will enhance your holiday, then we'll suggest it. We are focused on our clients needs and helping them make the best informed impartial decisions to get the most value for their holiday budget.

We Can Match And Beat Online Prices

Some people are more than happy to do the planning groundwork themselves. You can do that if you wish and then send us all the details (but our services save you that time!).

We'll either be able to match it, beat it or (more likely) present an alternative option that saves you money. In some cases we will identify 'holes' in the package you have seen online and provide you with the right solution.

If you see an escorted tour, cruise or online holiday package that you like, we can book it at the same price, giving you the added bonus of us checking the details and adding tailor made options.

We Have Insider Rates

Our 30+ years of travel expertise, specialist knowledge of Africa and other locations together with first-hand travel experience has created a unique network of providers that we can call on to create the perfect holiday experience for you.

We have insider access to special flight prices, discounted hotel and preferential rates that you will never find online yourself. This benefit alone will save you money.

We also have the buying power to get extra benefits, upgrades, insider tours and additional experiences to enhance your travels.

We Have An Exclusive Little Black Book Of Contacts

Working with our specialist industry partners (particularly within AITO and ATTA) we have a world of exclusive contacts through whom we pass on special benefits to our clients.

We invest our own money and our own time to travel and visit the destinations we recommend so we can provide first-hand knowledge.

One of reasons we make this investment is for the opportunity to meet face to face with the right industry contacts. These important connections truly benefit the travel experience our clients enjoy.

Our little black book of contacts is unmatched in the industry, especially within Africa (Where Jules herself worked for many years).

We know exactly who to speak to in order to make special requests for our clients. This could mean things like meet and greets, welcome gifts, celebratory events or advanced restaurant reservations. These relationships have proved priceless and added huge value to our client base.
